DESIGNS OF THE YEAR

25 MARCH – 31 MARCH 2016

MEDIA PREVIEW 24 MARCH

Now in its eighth year, Designs of the Year celebrates design that promotes or delivers change, enables access, extends design practice or captures the spirit of the year.

The international awards and exhibition showcase design projects from the previous 12 months, across categories of: Architecture, Digital, Fashion, Product, Graphics, and Transport.

Design experts, practitioners and academics from across the world are asked by the Design Museum to suggest potential projects, from which the museum selects over 70 for nomination and display in the exhibition. A specially selected jury chooses a winner for each category and an overall winner – to be announced at the Design Museum in the summer.

LIFE ON FOOT

CAMPER AT THE DESIGN MUSEUM

13 MAY – 1 NOVEMBER

MEDIA PREVIEW 12 MAY

The first museum exhibition devoted to the much-loved Spanish footwear brand Camper, Life on Foot marks the 40 year anniversary of this independent family-run business whose shoes are purchased in their millions worldwide.

Taking visitors from the design studios in Mallorca to high-tech mass production facilities in the Far East, and on to shop floors across the globe, the exhibition charts the entire design and manufacturing process of Camper's instantly-recognisable products, as well as their conceptual retail spaces and non-conformist, often humorous approach to advertising.

Life on Foot showcases Camper's traditional shoemaking skills, contemporary design practice, the latest technologies and newly-developed materials alongside the company's many collaborations, which have seen them work with some of the world's leading contemporary designers, including Bernhard Willhelm, Nendo and Jasper Morrison.

Opening up Camper's extensive archives to the public for the first time, the exhibition brings together sketched concepts, prototype products, as-yet-unreleased pieces and new photography; giving an unprecedented picture of how a complete seasonal collection is researched, created and put together - from the composition of the soles to the graphics on the box.

The exhibition also explores the social, cultural and environmental impact of life on foot, from flaneurs to future cities. New commissions interrogate the pedestrian's relationship to the built environment, as innovations such as wearable technologies and surveillance systems change our experience of walking - this most basic of activities which carries within it millennia of human progress.

DESIGNERS IN RESIDENCE: MIGRATION

9 SEPTEMBER 2015 – 28 FEBRUARY 2016

MEDIA PREVIEW 8 SEPTEMBER

The Designers in Residence programme provides young designers with time and space to research and consider new ways of developing their work through an annual residency which culminates in an exhibition of four new commissions at the Design Museum. The theme for 2015 is 'migration'.

Each resident is offered a bursary, commissioning budget and the production costs required to realise their new commission. The programme includes a series of events and talks, offering the designers the opportunity to interact and engage with the public, whilst using this platform as a test-bed for ideas, designs and innovations.

Four designers are selected from an open call to take part in Designers in Residence each year; recent alumni include Giles Miller, Asif Khan, Bethan Laura Wood, Adam Nathaniel Furman and Chloe Meineck. 2014's Residents were James Christian, Ilona Gaynor, Torsten Sherwood and Patrick Stevenson-Keating.

CYCLE REVOLUTION

18 NOVEMBER 2015 – 30 JUNE 2016

MEDIA PREVIEW 17 NOVEMBER

Britain is in the midst of an explosion of interest in bicycles and bicycling at every level, from every day commuting to Olympic level competition. It's a phenomenon which is changing the way that we use our towns and cities. It is driving a wave of creative innovation for mass market cycling, and has also resulted in a surge of craftsman bicycle makers working by hand to tailor machines to the precise specifications of their users. The results are beautiful as well as ingenious.

The Design Museum will celebrate the bicycle with a major exhibition that brings together a range of the definitive bicycles of our times, explores the cycling subcultures and the impact of the quest to achieve greater performance is having on the design of bicycles.

COLLECTION LAB: UNTIL 23 AUGUST

Collection Lab is a space on the Design Museum's second floor, created to test different ways of showing and interpreting the museum's varied collection of design objects. The displays evolve throughout the run of Collection Lab - providing juxtapositions, provoking discussions, and asking visitors to help shape the museum's future.

DESIGN MUSEUM BOOKS

The Design Museum and Conran Octopus publishing produce a series of books celebrating design. Recent publications include '50 Dresses That Changed the World'. This year's releases include '50 Modern Buildings that Changed the World' and '50 Fashion Designers That Changed the World'. For 2015 the Design Museum with Carlton publishing is also releasing 'Design: an essential introduction'.
