DESIGN OVERTIME

- Friday night Design Museum late openings

DESIGN OVERTIME: SPARKLE THE DARK UP

Friday 7 December 2007 until 10pm

A Christmas extravaganza, December's unmissable Design Overtime event will see the much anticipated return of The Actionettes, an all female glittery synchronised dance group, who will dance throughout the museum to a medley of 60's beat girl hits. An enchanting musical performance by London-based duo Gamine, whose romantic Franco-ballads are reminiscent of film noir scores, will take place in Riverside Hall. Get all your Christmas shopping done early in the Design Museum shop, and then take part in a designer-wrapping workshop. Create fabulous Christmas cards and decorations in a variety of workshops, and decorate gingerbread people, while drinking warming mulled wine in the riverside bar. Also an opportunity to see the current exhibitions Matthew Williamson 10 Years in Fashion and Jean Prouvé.

DESIGN OVERTIME: GLAM NIGHT KNIT NIGHT

Friday 18 January until 10pm

When was the last time you had the red carpet treatment? Be glamorous, be chic, be cosy, but above all be seen at this last- chance-to-see Matthew Williamson – 10 Years in Fashion. A night of glamour and contrast. Dress code: party frock or cardy. Not happy with your outfit or your look? Why not make a new frock in the low-tech couture workshop or be made-up, ready for your catwalk appearance at the end of the night.

DESIGN OVERTIME: LIGHT UP YOUR HEART NIGHT

Friday 15 February UNTIL 10pm

Romance is in the air so come to the Design Museum to find a bit of one-to-one design action. Speed date debate and find the perfect partner to accompany you around the museum, and possibly your life! Sounds for swinging sweethearts will be supplied by DJ Hawaii Dayton in the Riverside Hall. Listen, drink, meet, talk, bond, view, tango, and end the evening with a cup of tea and a cake from the Piece of my Heart bakery.
